

The old names of streets, when they differ from present names, are in parentheses.

Located on the southwest corner of the present corporation limits of Milton were two public springs called "Twin Sisters". These public springs were near the Glenburne House.

MILTON

NATIONAL REGISTER HISTORIC DISTRICT

This map was based on a 1946 Walter Ritzschne copy of a 1842 plat by Henry Bushnell; a 1973 Jim Thomas map of the streets in Milton; and testimonial evidence of Ruth Little-Stokes, Mrs. L.B. Satterfield and Mr. M. Q. Plumblee.
Note - The 1842 Henry Bushnell map was "agreeable" to an 1819 map of Milton.

February 1961 - Cory Lee Hall

